Announcement of Renewal of IBL's Homepage

We are pleased to announce that our corporate homepage will be renewed on Friday, April 17, 2015 at 18:00 Japan Time.

Background of Renewal of Our Corporate Homepage

We decided to renew the entire design and the structure of our current homepage in order to make easier to use and more convenience for obtaining necessary information with regard to our business activities as IBL group for all our valuable stakeholders such as customers, business partners, shareholders and investors through our brand new homepage.

We aim to proactively and effectively deliver updated valuable information regarding our business activities, products and services to our stakeholders and we also utilize our homepage as a part of sales and marketing tools for global users.

We remain committed to providing the best solutions for all researchers around the world and aim to have a better communication with our customers.

*Please note that current our homepage may be displayed even after the date of renewal due to an individual setting environment of devices (i.e. PC and tablet devices). To maintain fairness of disclosing updated information, we will also upload any updated information on our current homepage at same time in several days after the date of renewal.
